VOL. XX.—NO. 6013 | PORTLAND, OREGON, MONDAY, JULY 26, 1880 | PRICE—TEN CENTS.

GENERAL NEWS

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

A Rumor

ALBANY July 24—A rumor has been current here for some days that Gov Cornell contemplated calling an extra session of the legislature for the sole purpose of amending or correcting the law respecting the taxation of corporations that was passed at the last session.

The Hudson River Tunnel

NEW YORK July 24—Work at the Hudson river tunnel was resumed early this morning. Water in the shaft was up to within a few inches of the engine which was working in a fitful way to keep the water from overflowing. Water in the shaft is higher than at any time since the accident occurred. Work was resumed on cribbing this morning and all the men discharged yesterday were put to work again and will be kept at work night and day until crib work is completed.

Meat Shipment to England.

NEW YORK July 25—The Herald says: Very small quantities of meat are now shipped to Europe as compared with last year's owing to the high price of ice. It is said that the Knickerbocker ice company allege that refrigerators have been taken out of the ocean steamers in order to gain space for the thousands of emigrants swarming hither.

Still Fasting.

NEW YORK, July 24—Dr Tanner is somewhat weaker any more irritable. Early this morning he complained of a burning sensation in the stomach and was given two mouthfuls of hot water, which relieved his distress. His physicians think it an unfavorable sign but he says that during his fast at Minneapolis he often experienced the same sensation. He enters his 27th day's fast with no other marked change in his condition.

NEW YORK July 24—Dr Tanner was better this evening. He chatted with reporters on spiritualism giving his views thereon and seemed lively and cheerful. He did not take an afternoon drive. He retired at 9 30; weight, 130¼, temperature, 98, pulse, 74.

A Benevolent Immigration Scheme.

Thomas Hughes Q C, will leave England for Boston August 12th. His principal object in visiting this country is to supervise the organization of the Tennessee Land Company which is regarded at Boston as a board of aid to land ownership. It is composed of American and English gentlemen whose object is to encourage emigration from the old countries of industrious people to homes on fertile lands at present uncultivated, and by this and similar means to relieve destitution among laboring classes caused by want of employment. The board owns more than 50,000 acres. The survey for the site of the first town has been completed and it is proposed to formally commence building early in September. The board will then offer for sale town lots, small farms for fruit growing and larger farms for agriculture. The former will be confined to between forty and fifty acres and the latter will not exceed two hundred and fifty acres. Hughes will also deliver a lecture on co-operation and the labor question.

Sudden Rise in Rio Grande and C P. Stock.

NEW YORK July 23—In the stock board to day the Central Pacific, Denver and Rio Grande advanced sharply. The rising in the Denver and Rio Grande shares was due to the earnings of the third week in July, which were five times greater than last year, on an increased mileage of only one-half. The figures are $88 800 for 1880, against $17 800 in 1879. The sudden advance in Central Pacific stock to day was due to a report that the time for the second option of 50 000 shares has nearly expired and Huntington would not renew the option with the syndicate except at a much higher price. The Southern Pacific railroad is negotiating with the Mexican government for a concession to construct a grand trunk line of railway from Mexico to El Paso, with branches to Laredo and to Mazatlan or San Blas on the Pacific coast, the system aggregating 2000 miles of road.

The New York Mining Board.

NEW YORK, July 24—The World says: There was a large increase in the amount of business done at the New York Mining Exchange to-day, sales amounting to 68 810 shares against 45 720 yesterday. Prices at the opening were steady and remained so during the day for most of the list. Among those that showed weakness Calaveras was the most prominent.

Execution in Colorado.

DENVER, July 23—A Tribune's Fairplay special says: Cicero Simms was hanged here this afternoon for the murder of Jno Johnson, on the 25th of last January. Death was instantaneous, the fall breaking his neck.

Tragic Affair at Denver.

DENVER, Col., July 24—Charles Norton shot policeman O'Neil at Kokomo this evening. Norton was intoxicated and raising a disturbance in a saloon, and the policeman attempted his arrest and was shot dead. Norton was taken to jail and several deputy sheriffs placed on guard. A crowd soon gathered, overpowered the guard and lynched the prisoner. He confessed having committed other murders and said that he ought to have been hung long ago.

ST. LOUIS, July 24—Workingmen excavating at the East St. Louis depot, found a box with the mutilated and decomposed remains of a man supposed to be Judge Mayo, a banker of Illinois, who disappeared mysteriously over a year ago in about that region. His friends have been notified.

A Female Racer.

Miss Minnie Prentnote, of Gully has challenged the winner of the 20 mile ride at Minneapolis to ride 10, 15 or 20 miles in Denver, St Louis, Kansas City, Minneapolis or Chicago for $2000 a side.

Heavy Rains in New Mexico.

DENVER Col, July 24—Reports from Los Vegas report heavy rains throughout the northeast portion of New Mexico. Rain has almost incessantly fallen during this week, and still continues with no signs of abatement. Streams are all flooded doing great damage to New Mexico and the Southern Pacific Railway. All bridges between Los Vegas and Santa Fe and many between Los Vegas and Trinidad are washed out. Trains are delayed, and no mail has been received for four days. There has been a drouth in New Mexico and the rain will greatly benefit growing crops and insure plenty of grass for stock.

The treaty was read and interpreted but no public discussion took place in regard to its provisions. The Utes held a grand council last night among themselves. The result of their deliberations can only be determined by their action at the next meeting of the commission.

DENVER July 25—A later special to the Tribune says that a second meeting was held between the Utes and the commissioners at Los Pinos on Thursday. The Indians objected to a clause locating them on lands in severalty saying if they were to be removed they desired a reservation. Ouray replied advising the Indians to accept the terms offered.

POLITICAL

What is Needed in California

NEW YORK July 24—The Times says: There is every indication that before the middle of August the political campaign will have become the warmest and most active held in this country for many years. All old politicians admit that the signs point to a most stirring season of work in the field. From California ex Gov Jewell yesterday received a private letter written by a friend who has observed the condition of affairs in that state. He says: "We need to have some vigorous stumping of the state done by men who like Blaine have a strong hold upon the original republicans here. If Jewell can insure a visit from Blaine to California, he will add greatly to the chance already good of republican success."

Congressional Nomination

MACON July 24—J H Blount has been renominated for congress by the democrats.

The Situation in Virginia

WASHINGTON July 23—Virginia democrats are making desperate efforts to compromise in their State.

Sherman to Stump Ohio.

WASHINGTON, July 24—Secretary Sherman will stump Ohio for Garfield, as soon as treasury duties will permit.

Prospects in Pennsylvania.

WASHINGTON July 23—Congressman Shellabarger is in town to day. He has been attending several soldiers' reunions in Pennsylvania, and says that while he finds a good many democrats who have not declared their intention to vote for Garfield he has yet to learn of any soldier who will vote for Hancock. Shellabarger is confident that the electoral vote of Pennsylvania will remain republican.

The New York Collectorship.

WASHINGTON, July 25—It is understood that it has been formally represented to the president that the success of the republican party in the state of New York could only be assured by a change in the collector of the port of New York. The immediate friends of Arthur as well as those who hope for the election of the republican ticket say that a greater unity can be secured in New York state by making the change suggested. It is not proposed to remove Merritt but that he be requested to resign for the good of the party.

A High Indorsement.

WASHINGTON, July 24—Ex Secretary McCrary, who was a member of the Poland committee writes to Hon Chas Beardsley: "My confidence in the thorough integrity of Garfield was strengthened by his daily life development since the credit mobilier investigation and it has led me to the conclusion that Oakes Ames memorandum were very unreliable. I have for years felt assured of the correctness of Garfield's recollections of the facts in dispute."

An Invitation to Garfield.

Gen Garfield has responded to an invitation from the executive committee of the New England fair association to attend a meeting in September next. He will do so if possible.

The Louisiana Republicans.

NEW ORLEANS, July 24—Judge Taylor Beattie, chairman of the late bolting republican convention, has appointed a full state central committee to meet in New Orleans July 31st. This action creates much comment among regular republicans.

Hancock waiting for English.

NEW YORK July 24—The Sun says: Hancock's letter of acceptance is finished but will not be given to the public till English's letter is ready.

WASHINGTON CITY.

The Alleged Spanish Insult—Admiral Wyman's Report.

WASHINGTON, July 24—This afternoon dispatches were received at the navy department from Admiral Wyman at Port Royal, S C, giving results of an investigation of the alleged indignities offered the American flag in Cuban waters by the Spanish corvette Canto. The dispatches were referred to the state department and orders telegraphed Admiral Wyman to proceed from Port Royal at once with the Tennessee to Havana were countermanded this evening by telegraph. The admiral states that at San Diego De Cuba he was assured by the Spanish governor that his government unequivocally disavowed any intentional insult or indignity or the commission of any act at variance with the usages of all civilized powers. The Spanish authorities claim that the vessels fired upon were not only within six miles of the shore but actually within three miles, the limit of jurisdiction claimed by the governments of all maritime nations. Admiral Wyman further states that the Spanish authorities offered abundant evidence in support of this assertion and that in his opinion there was nothing in the case to warrant any further inquiry on the part of the government.

Rumor of Serious Trouble in Mexico

A rumor is current to day that an insurrection has broken out in Mexico in connection with the recent election. Assistant Secretary of State Hay said to day that he had heard nothing of it. It was well known that an election never occurred in Mexico which did not occasion some trouble. These insurrections break out on the body politic as a matter of course. He did not apprehend any serious trouble in Mexico. The state department believes that Gonzales will be chosen and seated without difficulty. They are especially pleased with the prospective appointment of Senor Mariscal as minister to this country.

Forces of Mexico and the United States Pursuing Victorio.

WASHINGTON, July 24—The state department has given permission to Mexican troops to follow Victorio across our line on the Rio Grande and they are in hot pursuit. Victorio will soon be captured having crossed into New Mexico. There is some policy in this permission. Our troops in that quarter are very glad to have a little help in the matter. They have tried for months before Victorio crossed into Mexico to capture him, but could not do it and aid from the Mexicans is not to be despised, no matter on which side of the line fighting is done as they are pushing the marauders from the south and the United States troops from the north.

Tobacco Taxation

WASHINGTON July 24—The internal revenue department has made the following decision: The special tax of $5 to be paid by dealers in leaf tobacco authorized by act approved June 16 1880 is to be reckoned like all other special taxes in the manner provided in section 3237 of the U S revised statutes. If a dealer begins business after the commencement of the special tax year the tax is to be reckoned proportionately from the first day of the month in which liability commenced to the first day of May following. The dealer to whom a special tax stamp has been issued under provisions of said act, even though it be only for a single month, the last month of the special tax year will be authorized to purchase or receive and to sell or consign the full amount of 25 000 pounds during that month.

At an inquiry yesterday into the identity of Bend d'Or winner of the Derby his trainer and others positively asserted that the animal known as Bend d'Or was not Tadcaster.

CABUL July 21—It is believed that a meeting of the British agents and Abdurrahman Khan will shortly be arranged near Cabul. The religious ceremony on his proclamation as ameer was witnessed by large crowds. The people profess satisfaction.

Abdurrahman Khan the new ameer of Afghanistan explains that urgent necessity alone made him raise the forced loan in Turkistan.

GRANT DISPOSED OF.

Rumors at Denver that he will Assume the Presidency of the San Pedro Mining Company

[SPECIAL TO THE OREGONIAN]

DENVER July 24—The question "What are we to do with Grant?" seems in a fair way to be settled if the rumors which are beginning to take shape here in connection with his present visit to the west may be accepted. A gentleman whose means of obtaining information on the points are good tells me that the general has under serious advisement a proposition from the San Pedro Mining Company which is operating in New Mexico. He states that the real purpose of his recent visit to New Mexico was that of examining the property of this company. It is a fact that he stopped at Santa Fe but a day or two and then passed on to the mining district like a business man with a place of destination before him. My informant tells me that the company has made General Grant a proposition to connect himself with it at a salary not to be less than $25 000 per annum to in a manner take general direction of the affairs of the company but principally to give it prestige. The present president of the company is George William Ballou of Boston. The property forms a part of the Canyon Del Agua, in the Mexican grant. It was worked extensively by the Mexicans from 1849 until the American occupation and a city of 4000 people was built there. It is stated that one nugget worth $7000 was found. It is certain that the placers are very rich but Americans have found their working unprofitable on account of scarcity of water. If Gen Grant goes in he will advise the laying of water pipes from the Samlia mountains some eighty miles distant. While visiting the mines he manifested great interest in them, asking numerous questions and closely scrutinizing them. He washed out an ore pan himself which yielded several colors and a nugget the size of a pin's head. In case the proposition is accepted, Grant will spend his time between New York and New Mexico. If he does not accept, it seems probable that he will form some connection with the mining interests of Colorado. He is now in Leadville where Gov Routt is chaperoning him. They explored one of the governor's mines to day. From Leadville he goes to the new mining region on the Gunnison and Eagle rivers. As may be imagined there is a general disposition to take Grant into all new mining schemes. He is certainly destined to become a bonanza king.

Another Story.

NEW YORK, July 24—The Herald prints a story about Grant's intention of engaging in mining enterprises in the west, but on its local page says that the story published yesterday that Gen Grant intends to remove his residence to this city and engage in mining is not confirmed by the ex president's son Jesse Grant who says that he hears from his father by letter regularly and frequently. He had a letter only a day or two ago and not in this nor any other does the general allude to an intention of coming to New York to live. Young Grant is quite sure that his father entertains no such project or he would have written to him about it. Neither has General Grant any intention of going into mining enterprises so far as his son knows. His trip to Leadville was not to gain information about the mines, but of curiosity to see that wonderful growth of our civilization. His first object in going to Colorado was to visit the Manitou springs and test the medicinal quality of their waters. The general also wished to see Colorado and New Mexico and examine the resources and products of the country, with the same desire for information which has inspired him since he began his trip around the world.

What Grant will do in New York.

NEW YORK July 24—Arrangements have been completed with Gen Grant to accept the presidency of a new mining company, which holds an immense tract of land already silently and sufficiently developed by private enterprise to give assurance that it is solid and valuable. He will probably be formally announced as its president soon.

Grant Going to the Hub.

BOSTON, July 23—Gen Grant is coming to Boston the last of September as the guest of the Middlesex Club. A grand banquet and reception will be given in his honor, at which all New England governors and many other distinguished men will be present.

ENGLISH AFFAIRS.

Parliamentary, Foreign Relations and Other Matters.

LONDON July 24—The government has slightly improved its position during the week. It carried the Irish eviction bill through the committee thanks to Mr Forster's patience and talent for conciliation, but after several changes of front, satisfying completely neither the whig landlords nor the Irish extremists. It will have undoubtedly a large majority on the third reading of the bill next week. The prospects of the bill in the house of lords are uncertain. The whigs are still debating whether to follow Lord Lansdowne's example or Lord Hartington's advice. The tories hesitate to assume the sole responsibility of defeating the measure. Lord Derby preserves silence. Lord Cairns returns expressly to attack the bill. It is much remarked that Beaconsfield, amid the government's numerous troubles, holds himself in reserve, waiting for the moment when he may intervene most mischievously. Lansdowne's resignation provokes criticism on the management of his Irish estate. Lansdowne publishes an imperfect defense to-day. Mr Redpath writes that he has been traveling over the Lansdowne property and regards the system carried out there among the harshest in Ireland. The only man not weary of the prolonged struggle in the house is Mr Gladstone himself who continues to take part with undiminished energy in every controversy. He saves the budget by a narrow majority against the combined attack of the brewers and the tories. The whips were taken unawares. Nobody expected a serious conflict. Defeat would have involved the reconstruction of the budget and the retention of the malt tax compared with which the previous ministerial difficulties would have been trivial.

Foreign affairs for the last few days again enlisted some though languid attention. The debate last night was only remarkable because Mr Gladstone thought it worth his while to extinguish Mr Ashmead Bartlett, a noisy young jingo and Lady Burdett Coutts' factotum.

To day news of the Turkish refusal to accept the enlargement of the Greek frontier as decreed by the Berlin conference insures speedy publicity to the resolution known to have been taken by the European powers respecting the measures of enforcement. The secret has hitherto been so well kept that all announcements were purely conjectured. The reported disagreements of France and England are certainly untrue. Sir Charles Dilke on whom the burden of the negotiations has fallen besides representing the foreign office in parliament is full and overworked, but refuses to take rest till the crisis is past.

The Famine in Ireland Passed

LONDON July 24—There is no further need of American contributions for Ireland. The potato crop is ripe. Blight appears occasionally and mostly on fields planted with old seed in southwestern Ireland and there is no apprehension of its spreading. Killarney hotel keepers say that there are fewer American tourists this season than there have been for years.

The Compensation Bill

LONDON July 24—Very urgent whips, by the government and opposition, have been issued for Monday night's division on the compensation bill. The resignation of Earl Kenmare as lord chamberlain is again rumored. It is believed that the Irish members will support the compensation bill and that it will pass the house of commons by a large majority, despite opposition whips and abstentions from voting. The Times says: We believe that the number of lords who will vote for the compensation bill will be curiously small. At least a third of the habitual supporters of the government in the house of lords will abstain from voting.

Impending Strikes in England

LONDON July 24—The Bolton cotton operatives have resolved to strike on Wednesday unless they have an increase of wages. Masters say if they strike a general lockout will be enforced. The dispute directly affects 4 000 000 spindles and 10 000 operatives. 3 000 operatives are on a strike at Rochdale. A strike is probable at Oldham.

A Large Party Entertained on Board a Japanese War Vessel in San Francisco Bay

SAN FRANCISCO July 25—Officers of the Japanese corvette Tsukuba this afternoon tendered a reception in honor of the Japanese consul, which was attended by about three hundred ladies and gentlemen. The guests from the city boarded the steam tug Ivanhoe and the U S revenue steamer Hartley accompanied by a brass band and after a sail around the bay ran alongside the Tsukuba. At about the same time the U S steamers McPherson and McArthur arrived with officers and ladies from Mare Island and military posts around the bay. The guests were received by the Japanese consul and wife and ushered into a pavilion on the main deck composed of Japanese flags. Around the sides were arranged elevated seats fronting an impromptu stage. Beautiful floral decorations completed the work of adornment. K Kato Yama, a recent graduate of Yale college addressed the audience, explaining the programme for the entertainment. Overture by the band was followed by some Japanese music, then came the performance of a selection from a historical drama founded on events in the ancient annals of Japan, the performance concluding with the national dance. The guests then sat down to an elaborate banquet served in the cabin, after which dancing commenced, the festivities lasting until nearly nightfall. The reception was voted by all unique and successful.

The Kalloch Murder Case

SAN FRANCISCO July 24—In the superior court this afternoon I M Kalloch was arraigned for the murder of Charles DeYoung. The accused was allowed until Thursday next to plead. A motion to set aside the indictment will be made, and argument upon the motion is set for a week from Saturday.

Fatal Explosion near Tuolumne City, Cal.

MODESTO, July 24—Yesterday afternoon an engine owned by Moses May used as a threshing engine on the farm of J W Davis, near Tuolumne City, exploded. The engineer J S Dooly, was blown fifty-nine yards from the engine and the separator was blown about thirty feet from its place. Dooly died a few hours after. Eight other men were more or less injured, one probably fatally. The field was set on fire and the stack they were threshing was consumed, but no further damage sustained by fire.

SHOOTING AT WIMBLEDON.

A Victory for the Britishers—Shabby Conduct on the part of Farrow.

[SPECIAL TO THE OREGONIAN]

WIMBLEDON July 24—At gun fire for lunch the totals at 800 yards range stood English, 559, Americans 515. The Americans commenced shooting at 9.50 o'clock, when a very light breeze prevailed. Rockwell shoots in the place of Farrow who had a dispute about the choice of prizes in the third series of extra prizes, and although Hyde offered to let him have what he wanted he refused to shoot unless Hyde gave him a guarantee in writing that he would have the choice. The team therefore unanimously excluded him.

Afternoon Report.

Rockwell made only 66 at the 900 yards range. He only knew that he had to shoot at the last moment. When the possibility of his shooting arose last night he had no time to compare the sighting of his gun with the others and had to commence with a borrowed gun which others of the team had roughly compared at pool last night. The team is very hot against Farrow, and the resolution to go on without him was to the effect that the team preferred to be beaten by gentlemen rather than win under other circumstances. Brown offered this morning before shooting to pay Farrow the difference between the value of the prize selected for him in the extra prizes and one which he wished to have, but he still remained obdurate. Rockwell failed to count on the 4th and 5th shots at the 900 yards range and went off to change his rifle. Returning he caught a blank. His succeeding shots counted alternately 4 and 5 until the 10th when he scored 3 instead of 5. Hyde, who organized the team, captured a blank on his 10th shot. Score 1000 yards—Americans 510, English 50[illegible]. Grand totals—English 1617, Americans 1568.

The Origin of the Quarrel.

The dispute between Farrow and Hyde grew out of a tie in the third series of extra prizes. When the tie might have been shot off Hyde's gun had broken down. The competitors had arranged among themselves who should take the various prizes. When the selection was made Farrow was not in camp and Hyde selected for him, but Farrow was not satisfied with the selection.

Eastern Affairs.

PARIS July 24—A dispatch from Vienna is published here purporting to give an account of negotiations between the powers on the Montenegrin question. England according to the dispatch proposed to Turkey to cede Dulcigno or carry out the protocol of last April. The porte declined to cede Dulcigno and asked a delay of three months to carry out the Turco Montenegrin convention. The powers refused and insisted on immediate execution of the convention. While negotiations were pending England anticipating the refusal of the porte took the initiative in effecting an understanding between the powers and made verbal proposals to the other cabinets for sending to Turkish waters vessels from each power carrying troops for land service. Austria accepted but objected to sending troops for disembarkation and demanded that the fleet only consist of two or three vessels from each power. Russia adhered to these proposals without reservation. Other powers made a reservation on points of detail but on the whole a complete understanding was established on the expediency of naval demonstrations. Negotiations on the Montenegrin question are perfectly distinct from those in regard to the Turco Greek frontier. The latter negotiations are more active. When the porte has replied to the collective note if the reply be negative it is considered possible that the naval demonstration will aim at its settlement as well as of the Montenegrin question. Ambassadors at Constantinople are making great efforts to induce the porte to immediately accede to the demands of the powers but the porte is little disposed to comply. The porte has made confidential overtures to several powers more particularly Russia, England and Germany, the object being to create discord among the powers and although this has not had the desired result it is feared that the porte still cherishes the hope of succeeding and thus continues in an unyielding spirit.

The Montenegrin agent at Constantinople has taken his departure.

THE STATE V. CHADWICK.

Report and Opinion by Judge Deady

In the circuit court for the county of Marion and state of Oregon.

The state of Oregon v S F Chadwick, Aaron Rose, B P Smith—No 2071—Action to recover damages.

Before Matthew P Deady, Referee.

John M Thompson and Addison C Gibbs for the plaintiff; S F Chadwick in propria persona and for Rose and Smith.

The referee having heard the allegations and proofs of the parties and the argument of counsel in the above entitled case, now finds and states the following conclusions of fact herein:

I That at the general election held in the month of June 1870 the defendant S F Chadwick was duly elected secretary of state for the State of Oregon and that afterwards to-wit on July 15 1870 said defendant Chadwick as principal together with the defendants Aaron Rose and B P Smith as his sureties executed and delivered to the plaintiff their certain bond in the penal sum of $10,000 as alleged in the complaint herein to be void among others upon the performance of the condition following, to wit: that said Chadwick would faithfully discharge the duties of his office as Secretary of the State of Oregon, and also as Auditor, which bond was afterwards, to-wit on July 19 1870 duly deposited by said Chadwick, together with his oath of office, in the executive office of said State of Oregon, and then and there duly approved by the governor thereof, and that afterwards to-wit on September 12, 1870 said Chadwick by virtue of the premises entered upon the said office of Secretary of State and remained therein and performed the duties thereof until September 14, 1874.

II That the defendant Chadwick during said period did not faithfully discharge the duties of his office as Secretary and Auditor aforesaid in this:

(1) That on October 21 1872, he audited and allowed an account presented to him by E D Foudray for his services as agent of the State in reclaiming Samuel E May, a fugitive from justice from Salt Lake City, in the territory of Utah, and delivering him to the sheriff of Marion county for the sum of $1,385 32 made up as follows:

Mileage of agent from Salem to Salt Lake via San Francisco 3 218 miles, at ten cents per mile	$ 321 80
Mileage of fugitive 1 609 miles, at ten cents per mile	160 90
Per diem of agent, 107 days at $3 per day	321 00
Per diem of fugitive, 53 days at $3 per day	159 00
Transportation of fugitive	301 00
	1 263 70
Interest on sum from Jan 5 to Oct 21, 1872	121 62
	1,385 32

And drew his warrant upon the treasurer of state in favor of said Foudray for said sum, by means whereof said Foudray obtained the same from the treasury of the plaintiff.

(a) That $634 20 of said account was false and illegal, because said Foudray was not in fact engaged in said service 107 days, but only 26, and in law was not entitled to compensation at the rate of $3 per day, but only $2, nor to any mileage or per diem for said fugitive in addition to his transportation and only $55 32 for interest, if any.

(2) That on October 24, 1872, he audited and allowed an account presented to him by Joseph Sloane for his services as agent of the State in reclaiming Michael McCormick, a fugitive from justice from Seattle, Washington territory, and delivering him to the sheriff of Clackamas county, containing, among other charges, an item of $110 as compensation for 11 days services at $10 per day, and drew his warrant upon the treasurer of state in favor of said Sloane for said sum of $110, by means whereof said Sloane obtained the same from the treasury of the plaintiff.

(a) That $88 of said account was illegal, because the said Sloane was not entitled to compensation at the rate of $10 per day, but only at the rate of $2.

(3) That on July 21, 1873, he audited and allowed an account presented to him by J M McCoy, for his services as agent of the state in reclaiming H L Palmer, a fugitive from justice from the state of California for the sum of $650 60, containing among other charges the items of $107 70 for mileage for said fugitive and $84 for 20 days services at $4 per day, and drew his warrant upon the treasurer of state in favor of said McCoy for said sum, by means whereof said McCoy obtained the same from the treasury of the plaintiff.

(a) That $149 70 of said account was illegal because the said McCoy was not entitled to any mileage for said fugitive, nor to compensation at the rate of $4 per day, but only at the rate of $2.

(4) That on October 24, 1872, he audited and allowed an account presented to him by Thomas Howard for services and expenses in arresting upon a bench warrant, E E Frink and conveying him from Grant to Linn county for the sum of $74 46, and drew his warrant upon the treasurer of state in favor of said Howard for said sum, by means whereof said Howard obtained the same from the treasury of the plaintiff.

(a) That said account of $74 46 was wholly illegal, because the state was in no way liable for the cost of executing said bench warrant, the county in which it issued being legally bound therefor.

(5) That on October 22, 1873, he audited and allowed an account presented to him by James A Shinn, the sheriff of Baker county, for conveying six convicts from said county to the penitentiary, for the sum of $1,972, containing among other charges, an item of $552 for the transportation of said convicts, and drew his warrant upon the treasurer of state in favor of said Shinn for said sum, by means whereof said Shinn obtained the same from the treasury of the plaintiff.

(a) That $156 of said account was false and illegal, because the said Shinn was not entitled to charge for transportation of said six criminals more than the hire and board of six horses at $2 75 a day, from Auburn to Salem and return, a distance of 810 miles, at the rate of 36 miles a day, to wit the sum of $396 instead of $552, as aforesaid.

(6) That on November 1, 1871, he audited and allowed an account presented to him by A Warnick the sheriff of Union county for conveying three convicts from said county to the penitentiary for the sum of $1,101 66, containing among other charges, an item of $180 for the transportation of said convicts, and one of $276 66 for an addition of one third per centum to the compensation charged in said account and drew his warrant upon the treasurer of the state in favor of said Warnick for said sum by means whereof said Warnick obtained the same from the treasury of the plaintiff.

(a) That $291 66 of said account was illegal, because said Warnick was not entitled to charge any per centum as an addition to his compensation for such service, nor for the transportation of said three convicts more than the hire and board of three horses at $2 75 a day from La Grande to Salem and return, a distance of 650 miles, at the rate of 36 miles a day, to-wit the sum of $1[illegible] instead of the sum of $180, as aforesaid.

(7) That on October 9 1872, he audited and allowed an account presented to him by James A Shinn, the sheriff of Baker county, for conveying six other convicts from said county to the penitentiary for the sum of $1,868 [illegible], containing among other charges an item of $[illegible] for the transportation of said convicts, and drew his warrant upon the treasurer of state in favor of said Shinn for said sum, by means whereof said Shinn obtained the same from the treasury of the plaintiff.

(a) That $144 of said account was false and illegal because said Shinn was not entitled to charge for the transportation of said six convicts more than the hire and board of six horses at $2 75 a day from Auburn to Salem and return, a distance of 810 miles at the rate of 36 miles a day, to wit the sum of $396 instead of the sum of $540 as aforesaid.

(8) That on June 10 1871 he audited and allowed an account presented to him by Charles A Hanscom, the sheriff of Coos county for conveying two insane persons from said county to the insane asylum for the sum of $13[illegible], containing among other charges an item of $110 for the transportation of said insane [illegible] and drew his warrant upon the treasurer of state in favor of said Hanscom for said sum by means whereof said Hanscom obtained the same from the treasury of the plaintiff.

(a) That $22 of said account was false and illegal because said Hanscom was not entitled to charge for the transportation of said two persons more than the hire and board of two horses at $2 75 per day from Empire City to Portland and return, a distance of [illegible] miles at the rate of 36 miles a day, to wit the sum of $88 instead of $110 as aforesaid.

(9) That on November 16 1872 he audited and allowed an account presented to him by William P Watkinds the superintendent of the state penitentiary for conveying two insane persons from said penitentiary to the insane asylum for the sum of $72 57, containing among other charges the items of $6 27 interest on said account, $10 mileage for said superintendent and [illegible] one person and $3 per diem for the former, and drew his warrant upon the treasurer of state in favor of said Watkinds for said sum by means whereof the said Watkinds obtained the same from the treasury of the plaintiff.

(a) That $15 27 of said account was illegal, because [illegible] was not entitled to a per diem nor mileage nor in any case to interest on any portion of said account.

(10) That on October 23 1872 he audited and allowed an account presented to him by James H Shinn the sheriff of Baker county for conveying one insane person from said county to the insane asylum for the sum of $[illegible], containing among other charges the items of $72 for transportation of said insane person, $[illegible] for keeping him at the Dalles $8 [illegible] an addition of one third per centum to the compensation charged in said account and $[illegible] interest thereon, and drew his warrant upon the treasurer of state in favor of said Shinn for said sum, by means whereof said Shinn obtained the same from the treasury of the plaintiff.

(a) That $40 of said account was illegal because said Shinn was not entitled to charge for the transportation of said insane person more than the hire and board of one horse, at $2 75 a day from Auburn to Portland and return a distance of 700 miles at the rate of 36 miles a day, to wit the sum of $55 instead of $72 as aforesaid, nor charge any per centum as an addition to the compensation for said service, or interest on said account.

(11) That on November 17, 1873, he audited and allowed an account presented to him by James H Shinn, the sheriff of Baker county, for conveying an insane person from said county to the insane asylum for the sum of $451, containing among other charges, an item of $92 for transportation of said insane person and drew his warrant upon the treasurer of state in favor of said Shinn for said sum, by means whereof said Shinn obtained the same from the treasury of the plaintiff.

(a) That $37 of said account was false and illegal, because said Shinn was not entitled to charge for the transportation for said insane person for more than the hire and board of one horse, at $2 75 per day, from Auburn to Portland and return a distance of 700, at the rate of 36 miles a day, to wit: $55 instead of $92, as aforesaid.

(12) That on June 1, 1871, and every three months thereafter, he audited and allowed an account in favor of T H Cann, as assistant secretary of state, for the sum of $100 and drew his warrant upon the treasurer of state therefor by means whereof the sum of $1 400 was wrongfully obtained by said Chadwick from the treasury of the plaintiff.

(a) That said accounts were all illegal, because said Cann was not during said period assistant secretary of state and did not act as such or perform the duties thereof.

(13) That on November 30, 1872, he audited and allowed an account for clerical aid for the sum of $261, and also upon March 1, 1873 and on every three months thereafter to and inclusive of September 1, 1874, an account for such aid for the sum of $400, and drew his warrant upon the treasurer of state therefor, by means whereof he obtained $3,061 from the treasury of the plaintiff.

(a) That $1,116 78 of said accounts were illegal, because said secretary was not entitled to draw upon said treasury for clerical aid during said period, for a greater sum than $1,943 22.

(14) That the defendant Chadwick did not unfaithfully discharge the duties of his office during said period in auditing and allowing an account on December 21 1870, in favor of Henry Klippel, sheriff of Jackson county in the sum of $520 20, for conveying three convicts from said county to the penitentiary, and containing an item of $153 for the transportation of said convicts, nor in auditing and allowing an account on May 20, 1874, in favor of James Wright, sheriff of Douglas county, in the sum of $210 for conveying two convicts from said county to the penitentiary and containing an item of $52 for the transportation of said convicts, nor in auditing and allowing another account on July 27, 1873, in favor of said Wright, sheriff, as aforesaid, in the sum of $221 for conveying one insane person from said county to the insane asylum and containing an item of $33 for the transportation of said insane person as alleged in the complaint herein, because said several sums, so allowed, for the transportation of said convicts and insane, respectively, were no more than said Klippel and Wright were entitled to charge therefor, allowing the hire and board of one horse for the transportation of each of said convicts and insane, at $2 75 for each 36 miles of the distance traveled going and returning, as herein before stated.

And as conclusions of law from the premises the referee now finds and states the following:

I That the defendant Chadwick did not faithfully keep the condition of his bond in auditing and allowing the accounts aforesaid, and drawing his warrants on the treasurer therefor, or for portions thereof as follows:

E D Foudray	$ 634 20
Joseph Sloane	88 00
J M McCoy	149 70
Thomas Howard	74 46
James A Shinn	437 60
A Warnick	291 00
Charles A Hanscom	22 00
W H Watkinds	15 27
T H Cann	1 400 00
Clerical aid	1 116 78
	4 229 01

To the damage of the plaintiff in said sum of $4 229 01.

II That by reason of the premises the plaintiff is entitled to recover from the defendants herein the damages aforesaid, together with its legal costs and disbursements in their behalf expended.

Opinion of the Referee.

The answer in this case beyond the plea of the statute of limitations, simply denies that the secretary wrongfully audited and allowed the several sums alleged in the complaint except in the case of Foudray where there is a further denial of information as to whether he wrongfully charged 107 days for executing the warrant of reclamation or not, but on the trial it was admitted that the return thereon showed that it was done in 26 days and that such was the fact.

It was also substantially admitted on the trial that the several accounts for transportation of convicts and insane alleged in the complaint to have been unlawfully allowed, were allowed under §§ 5 and 6 of the act of January 12, 1859 (Or L p 607) as for the hire and board of a horse and that there was also allowed for conveying each of such convicts and insane, mileage at the rate of 10 cents per mile.

Under these circumstances the answer was considered and treated as a demurrer simply, and the case was tried accordingly.

The plea of the statute of limitations assumes that this action is brought upon a parol contract or liability, and was therefore barred in six years from the time the cause of action accrued (Or code § 6) whereas it is brought upon a sealed instrument—the bond of the defendants—and the several supposed causes of action stated in the complaint are merely statements of alleged breaches of the condition thereof. Such an action may be brought within ten years from the time it accrued (Or code § 5). The plea is clearly insufficient.

In the consideration of this case two principal questions of law arise (1) What was the compensation allowed by law for reclaiming fugitives and conveying convicts and insane to the penitentiary and asylum and (2) what is the measure of the secretary's responsibility when acting as auditor of public accounts or claims against the state?

The constitution (§ 5 Art VI) provides that "by virtue of his office the secretary shall be auditor of public accounts" and the statute (Or Laws p 692) makes it his duty "to examine and determine the claims of all persons against the state in cases where provision for the payment thereof shall have been made by law and to certify upon the same the amount due and allow a warrant therefor and from what fund the same is to be paid and draw a warrant upon the treasury for the same."

The statute also provides that "no account shall be audited except the same be duly verified by the oath * * * of the claimant or his agent" and authorizes the secretary to examine under oath the person presenting an account orally or in writing as to any fact relating to the justness of the same. A claimant who is dissatisfied with the decision of the secretary may have the matter referred to the legislature, and all claims against the state must be presented to the secretary with the evidence in support of them to be audited, settled and allowed within two years and not afterwards. It will be [illegible] that while the secretary is generally a ministerial officer, [illegible] in the auditing of accounts he acts in a judicial capacity. His duty is to examine and determine the justness of the account presented and the law applicable thereto. He is to judge of the law and the facts involved in the application, and in so doing he is engaged in the exercise of the judicial function as much as though he were sitting upon the woolsack.

Still being a ministerial officer [illegible] he cannot claim the total immunity with which the law [illegible] the administration of justice [illegible] fear and unbiased [illegible]. [illegible]

In Pike v Megoun et al 44 Mo 491 it was held that defendants while acting as registration officers were not liable to the plaintiff civilly for erroneously refusing to register him as a qualified voter when the error was produced merely by a mistake in judgment and not as the result of wilful misconception or malice or knowingly wrong, but and not according to their honest conviction of duty.

In Walker et al v Hallock et al 32 Ind 239, it was held that the members of the common council of Evansville were not liable civilly for the consequences of their action in a matter committed by the law to their discretion and judgment—as for instance whether or not two thirds of the adjacent property owners had consented to the continuance of a market house unless they acted corruptly. In Weaver v Devendorf 3 Denio 117 it was held that an assessor in ascertaining and determining the value of taxable property was acting judicially and therefore was not responsible civilly for the consequences of his action however erroneous or whatever his motives. But as was said, in Pike v Megoun supra this last remark as to motives, was not necessary to the decision of the case and being clearly in the face of all the English and American cases upon the point it must be regarded as mere dicta. But the real doctrine of the case—that the assessor in determining the value of property is acting judicially—has been firmly followed by the courts of that state. See Vail v Owens 19 Barb 22, Barhyte v Shepherd 35 N Y 238.

In Bonner v Adams et al 65 N C it was held that the auditor of the state whose duty it was like the defendant Chadwick's in this case to examine and liquidate the claims of all persons against the state in cases where there is sufficient provision for the payment thereof with power to examine claimants under oath concerning the correctness of such claim—when acting in the performance of this duty was not a mere ministerial officer but one called upon to pass upon the correctness of a claim and to judge if there is sufficient provision of law for its payment.

It is true, that these decisions were all made in actions brought by private parties for injuries resulting to them from the actions of the officers in question.

But it has not been suggested that the secretary is under any other or different obligation in this matter to the state than the citizen and I am unable to see why or how he should be and therefore I think the cases are in point as much as though the questions decided in them had arisen in proceedings directly between the state and the officer.

It follows from these authorities, and none have been found to the contrary as well as the reason of the matter that the secretary of state when acting as auditor of public accounts and claims against the state is not the mere advocate or agent of the state to prevent the payment of doubtful or unjust claims, but rather the umpire or judge between the citizen and the state whose duty it is to carefully weigh and examine the fact and the law and allow or disallow the claim according to the fair and reasonable estimation of the one and interpretation and application of the other.

And while it is doubtless his duty to be vigilant to detect and expose false and extravagant claims and fearless to reject them it is not his duty to reject or refuse to audit a claim and thereby put the claim to the delay and expense of a petition to the courts for a mandamus or the legislature for relief upon every question or quibble that may be raised or suggested concerning its justice or validity. Such a rule of action would practically work a denial of justice to the creditors of the state.

From the very nature of the case it would be unreasonable, unjust and impracticable to hold the secretary personally responsible for mere errors and mistakes of judgment committed in the performance of this duty.

Practically, such a rule would seriously impair the usefulness of the office for who that would be thought fit for it would be foolish enough to undertake to audit and pass upon over 200 thousand dollars of claims, yearly of all amounts and kinds, and often arising under crude, confused and contradictory legislation and give bond to be responsible pecuniarily for all mistakes he might make—and that too upon the scanty compensation of $1500 a year?

Acting upon this theory of the duties and responsibilities of the secretary I have considered and passed upon the demands in the complaint herein amounting in the aggregate to $6 63[illegible] and allowed $4 229 01 and disallowed the remainder. The first three involve the question of the compensation of an agent for the reclamation of fugitive from justice.

The criminal code authorizes the appointment by the governor of an agent to demand such fugitive of the executive of the state where he may be found ([illegible] code [illegible]) and [illegible] provides that the account of the agent embracing [illegible] incurred in performing the service must be [illegible] by the [illegible] audited and [illegible] with other claims against the state.

This provision seems to assume what is doubtless true that [illegible] containing [illegible] the payment of all his expenses. [illegible] I provide that he shall [illegible] is said there is [illegible] "embracing [illegible]" may contain a charge for [illegible].

But unless there is some other statute which must be construed as providing some other compensation this is not sufficient to [illegible] anything but expenses [illegible] construction of some other statute.

§ [illegible] of the act of October [illegible] 1862 ([illegible]) being the general fee bill [illegible] private persons performing [illegible] law, or in the execution of [illegible] where no express provision is made for the compensation [illegible] shall be entitled to $ [illegible] for each [illegible] and mileage for any necessary travel [illegible] returning at the rate of [illegible]. It [illegible] not a forced construction of the [illegible] to this agent so far as the per diem [illegible] but there is no reason for such [illegible] as the mileage is concerned the [illegible] ture only an allowance for traveling expenses which are expressly provided for [illegible]. Beyond these there is no provision for the compensation or expenses of such agent nor [illegible] any necessary.

But in the first of these three accounts—that of E D Foudray—it was assumed without a particle of authority that he was a sheriff [illegible] conveying a convict to the penitentiary [illegible] over the mud roads of Oregon under the act of January 12, 1859—instead of a private person—a mere agent of the executive—traveling [illegible] comfortably by steamer and railroad [illegible] and Salt Lake via San Francisco—and [illegible] charge mileage for expenses and a per diem [illegible] at the rate of one day for every 30 miles [illegible] whereby the 26 days actually employed were stretched out to 107 and not only this but [illegible] like per diem and mileage for the fugitive in addition to the sum of $321 for his transportation of 1609 miles—a sum just double the legal mileage or the probable actual cost of such transportation. It might be thought that assumption and ingenuity could go no farther than this but an item of $121 62 was added for interest during the nine months that the account was lying unaudited in the secretary's office awaiting an appropriation therefor. I have found that at least $634 20 of this account ought not to have been allowed under any circumstances and therefore the defendants are liable for the amount.

Some excuses have been offered for the allowance of this claim and while they have no legal effect they may not be without weight morally. The executive volunteered a certificate that the account was "correct" though he could know nothing of it as executive that the secretary didn't. A committee of the house (H J 18[illegible] p [illegible]) said that they believed the claim legal and just and recommended an appropriation to pay it and other like claims "if found just and legal by the secretary." But it should be remarked in this connection that the committee seems to have acted upon the prior recommendation of the secretary that an appropriation ought to be made to pay these claims and that the delay in auditing them was caused by the want of such appropriation—all of which implied they were probably legal and just—particularly when there was not a hint or suggestion to the contrary. The other claims for similar services have been disposed of in the same way.

The claims for conveying convicts and insane involve the consideration of sundry statutes extending over many years, including questions of repeal by implication.

In 1855 (act Jan 19 1855 Or L 1854-5 p 479) the law allowed a sheriff for conveying a convict $5 a day—mileage for himself and convict, and the expenses of a guard. In 1859 (act Jan 12 1859 Or L p 606,) it was provided, that a day's travel in conveying a convict between the first of November and April should be 30 miles, and for the remainder of the year 36—that a sheriff conveying convicts "on horseback" should be allowed pay for one horse for each convict, at the ordinary rates for horse hire in his county and that the allowance for conveying convicts in a wagon or other land vehicle should not exceed that by horseback. This act although containing a general repealing clause was not considered to have repealed the provision in the act of 1855 supra giving mileage for the sheriff and convict and it could not have been so intended for the board and lodging of the convict would cost at least from $2 to $3 a day on the road, for which in that event the sheriff would get no compensation.

In 1864 (Act Oct 24 1864 Or L p 603) the per diem of the sheriff was changed to $3 and the mileage and expenses of guards continued as before. Neither did this act repeal the act of 1859 even if it be admitted that it could have done so, under the constitution by implication because in the general repealing act of that year (Oct 21 1864 Or L 1864 p 947) said act was expressly excepted from the repeal and because it is not to be presumed that it was so intended in the face of the well known fact that the mileage of 10 cents per mile would not even [illegible] in the greater part of the country more than pay the transportation of the convict, leaving nothing to reimburse the sheriff for his board and lodging on the road. In the same year (act, Oct 21 1864 Or L 1864 p 741) it was provided that the fees and compensation for sheriffs and others [illegible] of the Cascade mountains in civil actions, suits or proceedings, should be one third more than [illegible].

I have disallowed Warnick's claim of $276 66 for one third extra compensation for conveying convicts from east of the mountains and the like claim of Shinn's of $33 for conveying insane for the reason that this act did not upon its face apply to any such transaction being expressly limited to fees and compensation in [illegible] and because as to this [illegible] it was expressly repealed by the act of October 29 1870 (Sess L 168) which by its terms took effect July 1 1871.

This I think is a plain case of oversight or negligence, and the secretary is pecuniarily responsible to the state for the loss resulting therefrom.

In 1872 (act Oct. 23 1872 Or L p 603) the fee bill was again revised and the per diem of sheriffs conveying convicts raised to $4 but the provisions as to mileage and expense of guards was not changed nor the act of 1859 supra giving horse hire otherwise affected.

So were the statutes upon this subject during the period covered by this action. Assuming what was generally understood until the case of Grant Co v Sels 5 Or 243 (decided in Dec 1874) that under § 23 of art. IV of the constitution a statute could not be repealed by implication (Meyer v Cahalin 5 Saw 359), there would be no doubt but that a sheriff conveying a convict by land was entitled to the cost of a horse for the transportation of the latter as well as mileage because that was the plain letter of the statute. Upon this reasonable conclusion as to the state of the law the secretary may be presumed to have acted during this period and although it should turn out afterwards that the law was thought held otherwise he ought not to be held pecuniarily responsible for this error of judgment.

But I do not think the act of 1859 was ever repealed by implication because no statute passed after it was in the matter of mileage different from the one in force when it was passed. Repeals by implication are not favored and a mere ministerial officer though acting judicially ought not to conclude in favor of such a repeal unless in a very clear case.

The truth is or may be that the country or its means of transportation had outgrown the necessity of the act of 1859 and that since 1870 the mileage was sufficient to transport a convict without the allowance for horse hire. But that fact would not repeal the act. It might be a good reason for the legislature doing so and the law makers or their advisers may have been remiss in this respect. But the secretary as auditor cannot be made the scapegoat for their sins. But it is not admitted that even now the mileage alone is sufficient to reimburse the sheriff for transporting a convict. Indeed off the lines of railway and steamboats—probably over two thirds of the country—I am very certain that it is not. The transportation alone on the overland stage between Roseburg and Jacksonville is now $14 75 and has never been less than $10 or about 10 cents a mile and still there is the boarding and lodging of the convict, which will amount to $1 50 or $2 a day more.

Assuming then that the act of 1859 allowing a horse for the transportation of a convict was in force during the period of these allowances or that there was reasonable ground for thinking so the secretary is not personally responsible for allowing horse hire under the name of transportation, in addition to mileage unless such allowance appears to have been so excessive under the circumstances as to warrant the belief that it was made without reference to the law—wilfully or without sufficient care.

In Klippel's case there was an allowance of $153 for the transportation of 3 convicts—the distance traveled going and returning being according to the statute, 4[illegible]0 miles. At 30 miles a day's travel, this allowance would be within a very small fraction of $2 75 a day for a horse, [illegible] and board, which probably could not be had for less. Taking this allowance as a standard established by the secretary himself in this and the Wright cases, I found that the allowances for transportation or horse hire in excess of this rate were unauthorized and the result of wilfulness or insufficient care and held the secretary responsible for the damage to the plaintiff.

In Watkinds case it is more than doubtful if he was authorized to convey the insane convict to the asylum [illegible] of the act of September 27, 1862, [illegible] Or Laws [illegible] authorize the governor to [illegible] to be removed to the [illegible] authority that Watkinds [illegible] of the act of October [illegible] it was made "the [illegible] several counties" to [illegible] may be duly [illegible] question was [illegible] that the service [illegible] the sheriff. But [illegible] providing for the [illegible] convict by the [illegible] most that can be [illegible] under the circumstances [illegible] for the agent, under [illegible] 1864 (Or L, p 603) [illegible] convict. [illegible] item of interest [illegible] the plaintiff is [illegible] upon the sum [illegible] not made any [illegible].

The next [illegible] allowance of $1400 for an [illegible] there was no such [illegible] p 491 the secretary [illegible] to appoint an [illegible] annual salary of [illegible] for as the sala[illegible] [illegible] having been over technically [illegible] allow an [illegible] plaintiff is [illegible] amount back [illegible] same time, [illegible] assistant [illegible] $400 was [illegible] out his [illegible] that he [illegible] some boy [illegible] the work [illegible] is not [illegible] to relieve [illegible] necessary [illegible] unto the [illegible] but it [illegible] have al[illegible] [illegible] allowance [illegible] it was [illegible] a year [illegible] quarterly [illegible] it [illegible] to $1000 [illegible] reasonable [illegible] in the [illegible] but [illegible] [illegible] here is [illegible] allowance of [illegible] supply [illegible] of the [illegible] as [illegible] in the respective [illegible]. But [illegible] Grant Co. [illegible] repealed [illegible] constitution, and dis[illegible] 16 Cal, [illegible] the salary [illegible] year two [illegible] without in[illegible] fixing it at [illegible] the latter was clearly [illegible] or sub[illegible] with the [illegible] assumption that the con[illegible] intention of [illegible] not ac[illegible] allegation [illegible] and the bar[illegible] is legally [illegible] the excess [illegible] however that [illegible] in clerk [illegible] hesitancy in [illegible] judgment [illegible] for it [illegible] answer [illegible] and expended [illegible] and produce [illegible] part of it, he [illegible] the benefit of it. [illegible] appropriation lawfully drawn [illegible] clerical labor in his office [illegible] himself but [illegible] necessary [illegible]. For his own services [illegible] to be compensated by a salary. But if the fact is as it should be [illegible] money was expended for clerical aid in the [illegible] state I make no doubt but that the legislature will grant the secretary relief.

As there is no specific claim for interest in the complaint and nothing was said by counsel on the subject I have made no finding upon the subject. If interest is given it should be allowed at least from September, 1874 to date. Interest for 4 years upon the sum found due would be $1691 60 which added to the principal would make $5920 60.

THE "NARRAGANSETT" DISASTER.

Testimony of a Sound Pilot—Placing the Blame, etc

NEW LONDON July 23—In the Narragansett investigation to day Capt Hamphere of the City of New York testified that his boat arrived at her pier in New York at 10 A M. He had an interview with Capt Babcock, manager of the Stonington line but the latter said nothing about assisting rescued passengers in any way and so far as he knows nothing was done by the officers of the Stonington line to relieve the passengers while they remained on board the City of New York. He was examined at some length as to his interpretation of the rules on the subject of whistles. His ideas seemed to be clearer than those of the captains of the Stonington line. He gave as his opinion that it was more difficult to hear the whistles on the Stonington line than on any other in the sound. He had experienced more difficulty in passing Stonington boats in fog because they did not blow their whistles as often as other boats. He knew of one instance in which the Narragansett and Stonington had mistaken each other's signals. He was in the employ of the Stonington line as a pilot for two years and during that time was the only pilot on board. He did not believe that the Stonington and Narragansett could have got within two minutes of each other on the night of the collision without hearing each other's whistles provided the whistles were properly blown. They ought to have heard the whistles from five to six minutes off.

Daniel H Rodman a passenger on the Stonington testified that he saw one of the boats lowered and noticed her pulling around the stern of the Stonington and asked those on board why they did not rescue the passengers from the Narragansett who could then be seen in the water. Reply was made that the plug was out of the boat and that she would founder before she could reach the Narragansett.

TOO HOT FOR REPUBLICANS

A citizen of Selma Ala writing a gentleman in this city for information concerning Portland and Oregon under date of July 1 says

Have you a republican paper at Portland if so please present this card to the editor and ask him to send me a copy of his paper I want to see how it looks and how Portland looks and is This Godforsaken country is too hot for republicans to stay much longer and we must hunt a new home

This is but one of thousands of complaints which have from time to time for years past come from Alabama and other southern states but it shows the spirit which is abroad in that section and the means which are used to make the south politically solid It also illustrates the hypocrisy of the southern democratic leaders who come north or o Washington and proclaim that equal rights are guaranteed to and enjoyed by all the citizens of that country irrespective of politics that the laws give republicans every privilege which they give to democrats By this plan of making it too hot for republicans have the immense majorities been given to the democratic candidates in those states for some years past and by the same process is the south to be kept democratic Hancock will secure the electoral votes of three or four southern states by this same system which were the professions made in the north by democratic speakers and papers true, would be given to the republican candidate Permanent peace and prosperity cannot prevail, as General Garfield says in his letter of acceptance, until in every portion of the union the freedom of the ballot is given not only in the letter but in the spirit of the law to all classes and parties alike There is no necessity for republicans to start a southern "outrage mill" to excite the northern mind Notwithstanding the influence which this bourbon plan of conducting campaigns has exerted upon former elections it is still pursued, and is to be pursued this fall to give those states to the democratic candidate for president And year after year, as the country grows into the knowledge of these facts, the northern states will become more and more solidified, not because the south once fought against the government but because her people continue to resist and to endeavor to overthrow one of the most highly-cherished principles for which not only our last war but also our first, was waged—the right of the humblest citizens entitled to vote under the law to exercise the right uninfluenced by fear and untempted by bribes. The author of the note from which the extract above is taken but expresses a feeling entertained by thousands of republicans all through the south and it is not surprising that, persecuted as they are, deprived of their political rights, or exercising them at the expense of ostracisation, and perhaps at the risk of property or life, they are anxious to see a "strong man" at the head of the government, and who they believe would use all the power in his reach to extend not only the law, but its operation also, over every section of the country. It is not surprising that thousands of them have sought refuge in those states where this southern plan of making "too hot" for republicans is not practicable, or practiced Instances of exaggerations may have occurred, but all well-informed people in this country now know that such a thing as political freedom, in the sense which the laws of the nation intend, does not exist in many parts of the south

The same party which has defended these assaults upon the rights of the people will mould and guide the administration of General Hancock, if the misfortune of his election should overtake the country. Upon this question there is no uncertainty The stream cannot rise higher than its source, and even a union general made president by the Alabama method will not be able, if he had the disposition, to withstand the pressure of his constituency With a president elected and controlled by democracy, the republicans of the south would find that section "seven times hotter" than now, and the "outrage mill" run for the benefit of the party in the south, but having a contrary affect in the north, will grind all the more vigorously not only until not a republican is left there to complain, but until every state in which the shotgun policy is not practiced becomes irrevocably and unchangeably republican Then the north will make it "hot" not for individual members of the democratic party, but for the party at large, which will be buried beyond resurrective power to recall to life, and its epitaph will be, "Died from over exertion in trying to make it too hot for republicans

We are in receipt of a letter from Col Cann which appears elsewhere in which he says, "if the books (of the board of land commissioners) had been properly written up there would have been no deficiency found by the referee." The question might be asked what construction the colonel puts on the word "properly" The trouble might have been avoided if the books had had a little more writing up on one side Had the bookkeeper, which Col Cann claims was either Mr Fleischner or Mr Fleischman "written them up" heavier on the debit side it is true the books would have been all right but no alleged mistake of the bookkeeper can be given as an explanation of the shortness of the cash When business men find no cash exceeding the account by such a large sum, they usually require their bookkeeper to make a prompt investigation of the former If the cash does not tally with the books in honest transactions, the books must be wrong The letter which will not be regarded as nearly as satisfactory as Col Cann might write, will receive further attention hereafter

The democratic organs have been congratulating the party, at a great rate recently, because Col. John W Forney had come out for Hancock Here is what Forney said of Hancock in 1867

'One week ago Gen Hancock arrived [at New Orleans] and took command of the fifth military district From every rebel throat went up songs and shouts of joy as his plans were all known to them With sneer and jest they meet union men and say "Now is come our day Gen Hancock has arrived and will see us righted" The whole policy of General Hancock so far foreshadowed tends to prove him unmistakably opposed to the provisions of the military bill and warrants the assertion of his entire sympathy with the old secession element of this state and city who now find in him a true friend

Who has changed since this was written Forney or Hancock? Certainly not the latter

We are unable for want of space to notice at length the findings of Judge Deady referee in the case of the state against ex Gov Chadwick Suffice it to say that no one who is acquainted with the thoroughness with which Judge Deady discharges every duty imposed upon him will pass over his opinion without giving them the consideration to which they are entitled Mr Chadwick will have much to explain before he can fully satisfy the public mind that the referee's findings are incorrect

A while ago the democrats said Tilden must be nominated because he was cheated out of his election in 1876 When the time came to do what they said should be done they cooly replied that as Tilden himself was a greater fraud than the electoral commission the best thing to do was to drop him and was dropped

THE TAMMANY COUNCIL.

Resignation of the Independent Electors Accepted--Cordial Union with the Hewitt Wing.

[SPECIAL TO THE OREGONIAN]

SARATOGA, July 24 —The following resolution was adoped yesterday by Tammany

Resolved That while our constituents had no part in the nomination of the electoral ticket, headed by Hon Abram S Hewitt, we recognize that in voting for that ticket we will vote for our national candidate, whose success would be jeopardized by retaining two electoral tickets in the state, and we therefore accept the resignations of the gentlemen nominated as electors by the Shakespeare hall convention, and determine that the reunion and harmony of party will be best served by omitting to fill their vacancies.

The committee consisted of Hon. John Kelly, William Wright E S Jenny A P Page, Fred L Westbrook, John H Colby and R M Sheets. They presented an address to the democracy of the state which was adopted It says, among other things that the nomination of Hancock the soldier-statesman of Pennsylvania, has lifted the whole party above embarrassing local and state distractions to broad national ground, and has blotted our past alienations by a grand hope Now there is but one party one cause and one work in which all democrats should heartily unite, and to which they should devote their utmost zeal Let past alienations be forgotten The following was adopted

WHEREAS, The wise and patriotic action of the democratic national convention recently assembled in Cincinnati in placing before the people of the union as candidates for president and vice president of the United States General Winfield Scott Hancock and Hon William H. English, has settled differences which have divided the democratic party upon national issues in this state, therefore,

Resolved That with a view of having a convention in this state wherein all members of the democracy of the state may be fairly and properly represented a sub committee of five be appointed by the chair to confer with the democratic state committee of which Hon Lester B Faulkner is chairman, and that said sub committee be clothed with full power in the premises.

The chairman appointed as such committee Patrick H Cowen of Saratoga, Robert W Edwards, of Westchester, Anthony Barratt of Kings L Gardner Pope, of Warren, and Edward J Meagan of Albany

OUTRAGE IN TEXAS.

A Republican Official Threatened with Death for Making a Political Speech.

CHICAGO July 24 —An Inter-Ocean's Washington special gives a complete story of the attempt in Texas to forcibly prevent a republican official from making a speech at a republican meeting, prior to which it appears that United States Attorney Burns after investigating the case, declared that if the national government cannot protect the rights of freedom of speech there will soon be no such right tolerated in the south Bissell, the federal official referred to, addressed a republican meeting by request in the town of Brazoria. He made no assault on democratic leaders, gave colored people good advice not to elect democrats, as they were in majority in the county, to watch their tickets and take them only from known republicans The next day he was met in Brazoria by Dr. Atchman and a crowd of eight or ten democrats and called to account for his speech Dr Atchman said that if he didn't wish to follow Santee (a republican who was assassinated on account of politics) he had better stay at home He would be put out of the way if he came to Brazoria again They proposed to have no Yankees interfering with their county affairs Bissell said that he had lived in Texas three years and claimed the right of free speech The crowd were very abusive Subsequently Josh Bryan a wealthy planter called on him and threatened that if ever he made a republican speech in Brazoria again or took any part in politics he would slide off like Santee He learned later that the gang were determined to kill him, and being warned in time by friends went to Galveston and although a poor man gave up his place to avoid assassination Dr Atchman has lately murdered three persons and has been acquitted on the grounds of insanity These dispatches were not received until after the adjournment of the cabinet meeting to day consequently no action was taken The whole matter will probably be disposed of at a meeting Tuesday next

THE DETROIT RIVER DISASTER

An Eye Witness Places the Blame on the 'Garland"

DETROIT July 24.—In an interview Father Blesenburg states that just prior to the collision most of the boys were in the cabin He was sitting with the older men and boys of the party and they noticed a steamer coming down the river The Garland and the Fortune (another steamer) came to him not very far apart and coming very rapidly I do not know he said I hardly dare assert it yet it seemed to me— and the father made a significant pause as though in thought— they were racing He went on to say But I did not dream of a collision In fact no had I just said to Miss Dis[illegible] who was sitting beside him that it was a picturesque and exhilarating sight to see two steamer plow through the water such a bright moonlight night. When he saw the Garland suddenly loom up he instinctively divined with horror that a collision was imminent The [illegible] which [illegible] soon after and the Garland [illegible] but bore down directly on the frail yacht crushing it as if it had been an egg shell fairly cutting it in two amidships At the moment that he had seen the collision was unavoidable he had shouted to his friends and children to come to the front Some of them did so Miss Dissault followed him At the same time he felt the boat give way beneath him he caught hold of a rope on the Garland, and the young lady did the same somebody on board the steamer pulled her aboard and he climbed the rope he had hold of unaided The four boys who were saved crawled out of the cabin windows of the yacht and threw themselves into the water and they were picked up by a life boat from the Garland which was immediately lowered But some who might have been saved were he fears drowned by the swell run down by the Fortune which plowed along very soon after This was not the fault of the Fortune as they seemed to suppose that the Garland people who hailed them in alarm and anxiety were cheering them The father did not know how the accident could have occurred at all It was such a brilliant moonlight that the smallest of objects could be discerned at a great distance

DETROIT July 25 —No trace of the sunken yacht or its victims has yet been discovered although divers have been exploring all day

Forney's Usefulness.

[From the Cincinnati Commercial]

Col Forney seems to have taken the course most likely to make sure the election of Garfield by advocating Hancock He has stirred up the Camerons and made them determined to carry Pennsylvania The Camerons and Forney do not forgive each other If some distinguished gentleman can be found to do a like service in New York the election of Garfield will come to pass in due season

LETTER FROM T H CANN

SALEM July 4 1880

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

In reply to remarks of Judge Deady referee in the land cases concerning the books of the late land board I have to say that at no time was I employed by said board as a book keeper or accountant I was employed as land agent or sales clerk only and my duty was to sell all classes of the state lands receive the money or certificates showing that the money had been paid to some county treasurer legally authorized to receive it to give receipts make deeds to lands to attend to all correspondence of the board concerning lands and to attend upon the meetings of the board I was not required to keep books On the contrary the board employed and paid out of the land funds competent book keepers for the purpose during the whole period from 1871 to 1878 First M D Fleischman was employed and then J Mr John H Fleischman was Mr Fleischman's successor These men were paid from the land fund as it will be seen by the reports of the secretary and treasurer also by reference to the report of the investigating committee page [illegible] it will be seen that there was drawn from the land funds the sum of $3 [illegible] for clerical work for the eight years The sum of $ 4 465 was drawn by me and the sum of $ [illegible] was drawn by others I worked all the time during the whole eight years I kept my slots from which it was expected that the bookkeeper would make up his books The failure of the persons employed and paid for that service to have the books in proper shape compelled the production in court of my blotters which were not intended to serve any other purpose than memorandums for a bookkeeper I do not profess to be an expert penman or bookkeeper As I have stated I was not employed for that purpose Now what I say here is a matter of record so far as paying bookkeepers out of the land funds as the record will show and it is clear that there has been no bookkeeping done except a record of deeds All the deeds that were needed are neatly recorded in bound volumes And I have just one more word to say and that is if the books had been properly written up there would have been no deficiency found by the referee

I am called upon by THE OREGONIAN to come out with a full explanation of all the transactions of the office, which may be done in the future

"ARGUS" ANSWERED

PORTLAND July [illegible] 1880

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

The communication signed "Argus" in your paper of Saturday last needs some attention The estimate of the Alder street sewer of which Argus speaks is not the measurement of the work by which the contractor is paid Section six of the general conditions of the contract for the construction of the sewer provides that the work as actually done shall be measured as the work progresses and the preliminary estimate does not govern the amount of pay as in case of street improvements. The experience in laying the Stark street sewer demonstrated that it was impossible to tell before hand exactly what would be required and since then the specifications have contained the provision alluded to Further the specifications have allowed three feet in width for the trenches to be necessary and where a contractor tunneled or cut trenches of less width the inconvenience to himself was compensated by the greater width which the specifications allowed and nothing extra allowed in case it was necessary to cut a greater width The above provisions are not peculiar to the extension of the Alder street sewer but were contained in all contracts since the first pipe sewer was laid in the city The preliminary estimate of the Alder street sewer which is needed in letting sewer contracts to get the prices of different materials, was made by the aid of an extra assistant at the time of the rush of spring work when the surveys and reports for five or six street extensions and three or four street estimates were ordered almost imperatively within one month and it was made without an examination of the locality on the ground If anybody can find any wrong figuring on the final estimate or true measurement of the work If it is against the city I will readily pay the damage or if anyone can find any such errors in any of the final measurements of other sewer work measured by me I will do the same And furthermore, I may say that since I became city surveyor the price of laying pipe sewers has been reduced from $3 50 to $1 67 per foot as may be seen from the report on page 34 of the city charter, book of 1879 I won t say whether his saving to the property owners was occasioned by figuring or by desisting from dumping hundreds of loads of broken stone into the river channel to the detriment thereof or tying the river end of sewers with iron bars and logchains and charging it to the sewer fund as had been customary

GRAND JURY REPORT

After Several Weeks Session that Body Adjourns Sunday [illegible] Recommendations Made

Saturday [illegible] [illegible] through several weeks [illegible]

REPORT

[illegible]

We find that [illegible]

We would recommend that a water closet be placed in the apartment occupied by the jailer [illegible] [illegible] of the female prisoner We find that [illegible] [illegible] known as the [illegible] We think [illegible] keeping of the prisoner [illegible] in case of fire and we recommend that the ceiling of the roof be completed and we recommend that a [illegible] of sheet iron should be provided for what is known as the [illegible] water the same is not [illegible]

[illegible] the jailer is the only [illegible] other than the prisoners that habitually sleeps in the jail and the room occupied by him is lighted only by a common ordinary window [illegible] apartment of the jail ready of access from the outside We would recommend that all of the windows connected with the jail [illegible] already [illegible] be furnished with [illegible] bars so as to prevent the possibility of the jail being overpowered or means of escape furnished the prisoners from the outside We think the mattresses of the prisoners [illegible] to be removed and refilled with new straw at least every three months and in addition to the suggestions already made by us on that subject we think it would be judicious and economical to employ a reliable watchman to assist in guarding the prisoners and looking after the safety of the county property during the night

We think it highly necessary that a stronger and more secure safe should be furnished the county treasurer sufficiently large that a portion thereof may be used by the sheriff for the safe keeping of such valuables as come into his hand We think telephonic communication should be established between the county jail the police station and the fire department of the city We think that portion of the sleeping cots and bedsteads that are composed of sheet iron ought to be removed as it seems to us the iron so used can easily be manufactured into implements by means of which the escape of prisoners might be effected We believe promiscuous visitation of the jail as it has heretofore been allowed and practiced not only an unreasonable draft upon the time of the jailer but also tends to the demoralization of the discipline of the prison and we recommend that the county court or other proper authority frame a code of rules regulating the hours and times when visits shall be allowed and also to provide that the jailer or sheriff shall be permitted to exercise a reasonable discrimination as to the character of persons allowed to be admitted as visitors at any time. The same observations we have herein made with regard to the bad ventilation of the county jail is also applicable to the city jail and we recommend that in the case of both the city and county jail a competent architect be employed by the proper authorities to investigate and suggest a system of ventilation believing, as we do that false notions of economy which have prevented the employment of competent architects in this respect has already been productive of a much greater expense than a reasonable outlay for such purpose in the first instance would have been Should it be found that space can be allowed we suggest that a wash room be fitted up in the county jail with bath tub and other means of bathing so that the prisoners may be kept in cleanliness and thereby save the county expense for medical attendance [illegible] the city jail the tank over the water closet and the pipes connected therewith very much need overhauling and repairs

COURTS OF JUSTICE

So far as we have been able to observe the officers pertaining to the courts of justice in the county are well kept and the laws faithfully observed and administered

CONCLUSION

We feel like congratulating the citizens upon the general good order and almost universal prosperity prevailing in the city

Having now performed our duty to the best of our ability we respectfully ask to be discharged

MONDAY MORNING, JULY 26, 1880.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

The Eastern Question in the House of Commons.

LONDON, July 24.—In the house of commons last night, during debate on the condition of Armenia, the under secretary for foreign affairs said that the government would not not be satisfied with general promises from the Porte; but as the government was acting in concert with other powers, it would be impossible now to explain details of the reform which they were demanding or the steps they were taking to press them upon the Porte.

Sir Wilfred Lawson, radical, declared that he would oppose any warlike demonstration against Turkey as earnestly as under the late government he had opposed a demonstration against Russia.

Henry Labouche, liberal, protested against meddling with matters that do not concern England either in Armenia or elsewhere.

Premier Gladstone denied that the government was under any obligation to say whether a policy of coercion would be adopted or not. The house must be content, he said, to rely on the general rule that it is the interest of the government to make parliament acquainted with its policy. He inferred from debate that the government would receive support from all sides in its endeavors to induce the porte to carry out reforms.

France and Eastern Complications.

PARIS, July 24.—The Temps says: Though the powers are to a certain extent agreed, there is at the bottom a rivalry between England, backed by Russia, and Austria, backed if necessary by Germany. It is the duty of France to participate in European concert so long as it lasts, but to revert to absolute neutrality when concert gives place to conflicts of interests which are not those of France.

An Heir Expected.

LONDON, July 24.—Premier Canovas del Castello, has overruled objections raised by the queen's Austrian physician against the return of the court to Madrid in the heat of August. State apartments in palace at Madrid are being sumptuously prepared for the queen's accouchment, expected at the end of August. The queen's mother, the archduchess Elizabeth of Austria, will arrive in Madrid next week. Ex-Queen Isabella, will visit the capitol later.

The Defences of the Dardanelles.

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 24.—The sultan's naval authorities declare that at the present moment no fleet could force the Dardanelles without losing a large proportion of its ships and in a few days its defences may be increased a hundred fold by torpedoes. General Blum Pasha, recommends the construction of ten new forts on the straits.

The Greek Army.

ATHENS, July 24.—It is stated that the government will shortly call out the reserves.

Ordered to Malta.

BERLIN, July 24.—The German corvette Victoria, which recently started for the West Indies, on reaching Plymouth, was ordered to Malta, probably in connection with the naval demonstration of the powers.

CHICAGO WHEAT AND HOG MARKET.

[SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

CHICAGO, July 24.—The grain market has been in a somewhat nervous but nevertheless in a steady condition, the fluctuations in prices being very small, the best prices prevailing early in the week and the poorest about the middle. Corn was exceptionally weak to day and oats for future delivery exceptionally strong. The farmers seemed determined to punish any one who shall originate a corner for immediately upon the appearance of a premium of one or two cents for present delivery in corn or oats, they set about crowding receipts into the bins in a very discouraging way for the would-be manipulators. Cash corn which was at a strong premium fell off very decidedly towards the close of the week on account of the heavy receipts of corn averaging half a million bushels daily. The shipments have, however, exceeded the receipts in every kind of grain, and the bins are half a million bushels nearer empty than they were at this time last year. The provision deal is cornered so strongly that prices of hogs are running up at a furious rate, and are higher now than they have been for several years. Under these circumstances, it would be reasonable to look for tremendous receipts. On the contrary, however, receipts have fallen so rapidly that every consignment is snapped up immediately after it reaches the yards, and the question is being asked, "Has not the heavy drain upon the country on account of high-priced hogs had the effect of bringing an undue proportion of the hog crop into market, and are not the porcines in?"

Sales for the week for August option were as follows: Wheat 88@90⅝c, corn 35a36½c, oats 22⅞@23c, pork $13⅞a15, lard $6 77½@6 97½c.

Closing cash prices: Wheat 91½c, corn 35⅞, oats 25c, rye 69½c, barley 80, pork $14a14¼, lard $6 92½.

Closing August prices: Wheat 88⅞c, corn 35c, oats 22⅞, pork $14 85, lard $6 92½.

Receipts for the week: Wheat 476,000 bushels, corn 3,056,000, oats 274,000.

Shipments: Wheat 777,000 bushels, corn 3,170,000, oats 318,000.

Receipts same time last year: Wheat 570,000 bushels, corn 1,177,000, oats 243,000.

Shipments: Wheat 1,709,000 bushels, corn 962,000, oats 327,000.

The corn movement continues to excite wonder, both at the unparalleled demand from abroad and at the apparently unlimited means which our farmers have to supply it. Grain regions are all sending in favorable accounts of the probable yield, and only for the uncertainties of the Minnesota crop, which is the only wheat region not yet out of danger, the wheat yield of 1880 might be said to exceed that of 1879.

NEW YORK PRODUCE AND MERCHANDISE MARKET.

[SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

NEW YORK, July 24.—Merchandise markets show a gradual improvement, particularly in departments of leading manufactures for autumn and winter use, with great stability of values.

Breadstuffs quiet and easier at a decline of ½ to 1. Crop prospects and harvest reports continue favorable at home and abroad and exert continued depressing influence, although the market is more settled than for some days.

Provisions—Neglected but higher.

Rio Coffees—Better demand and firmer.

Refined sugars sell to full extent of offerings and prices firm at last quotations.

Teas—Firm at full limit and business fair.

Foreign Fruits—Moderate demand, raisins selling in small lots at about previous prices.

Prunes—Quiet.

Quicksilver—Less active, easier, 42a42½.

Borax—Unchanged, California nominally 10½@10⅞.

Hops—Unchanged.

Hides—Good demand; prices firm with upward tendency; sales 5000 dry California, part 22¾, sixty days.

Turpentine—Good demand, firmer, 35½@36.

Rosins—Very slow; prices nominal.

Petroleum—Dull.

Whale oil—Strong; active; higher held at 50@52.

Sperm oil—Active; firmer; sales, 350 bbls at New Bedford, 90.

Pig iron—Gradually assuming firmness that will likely be permanent, but business is confined to moderate sized amounts as absolutely needed by consumers for current use; No. 1 X, 26@28; other metals generally quiet.

Hardware—Quiet; but there is evidence of an early improvement, and prices tending upward.

Nails—Good demand; firmer.

Wool—Continues dull, but prices steady; sales, 80,900 lbs fall California private.

NEW YORK FREIGHT MARKETS.

NEW YORK, July 24.—The freight market via Cape Horn remains in the same condition as noted for the past few months, and all that can be said is expressed in the word "dull." The fact is that the market was scarcely ever so dull as at present, and there does not seem to be any prospect of improvement although there are some who predict early resumption of trade. Rates for freight are low and nominal and no active quotations can be made as ships are willing to accept almost any rate offered by shippers. Tonnage is in good supply, but there is no demand, as all vessels on berth fill too slowly to engage vessels to follow.

Isthmus freights are also very dull notwithstanding the efforts of agents to secure special lots of freight at special rates, they meet with no success. To-day's steamer had a very light cargo for the California market.

Overland freights are fairly active but the bulk of shipments are dry goods, considerable quantities of which are now going forward. Other shipments include 1710 pkgs of tobacco, 162 cases canned goods, 10 octaves gin, 255 baskets and 40 cs champagne, 300 bxs raisins, 40 bbls and 270 cs syrup, 225 coils rope.

Freights at Philadelphia still dull and ships load slowly. The Pactolus will probably be full by the 1st prox.

Freights at Boston also very dull and the Samuel Skolfield is not yet loaded. Road freights at Boston rather lively, shipments including 400 cases canned goods and 801 coils rope.

The Boston Wool Market.

[SPECIAL TO OREGONIAN.]

BOSTON, July 24.—Wool is firm and in steady demand for all kinds, but with the exception of combing and delaines the demand is far from active. Manufacturers are still purchasing cautiously and moderately but the number of buyers has increased and there are fair prospects of more active markets. Holders are less disposed to make concessions and stocks are held quite firm at current rates. The principal movement has been in Michigan fleeces, as this description has come forward more freely than other kinds, and are offered at a price more in accordance with the views of manufacturers. There was good demand for fine delaine and best combing fleeces. Choice Northern California wool is in demand, but other kinds in little request. Pulled wool is more enquired for, flannel manufacturers being free purchasers. Transactions in foreign wool are unimportant. Sales include Ohio X and XX and No. 1 at 47@48c; Michigan X and above X, 47c; Wisconsin X, 41@42c; combing and delaine, 42½@62½c; unwashed combing, 24@35c; Georgia, 35½c, Texas, 21@21¾c; territory, 27a32c; Kentucky, 33½@37c; Cala unwashed and unmerchantable, 25@37½c; Cala spring, 35½@38c; do fall, 19@23c; super and X pulled, 42@42½c; scoured, 50@59c; tub washed, 49c; Canada combing, 42½@45c; Austria choice, 50c. Total sales for the week were 2,285,400 lbs, of which 1,605,400 were domestic.

San Francisco Wheat Bag Market.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 24.—The Bulletin in its commercial column to-day says: For the past two weeks or more the wheat bag market has been irregular with some weak holdings. Strong holders have been dissatisfied with the condition of affairs and for several days there has been earnest work to put the market in better shape. These measures have at last been measurably successful. Transactions embrace several millions of bags on terms reserved. It is probable that if propositions had been rejected there would have been widespread demoralization. Final arrangements were completed yesterday afternoon. Some small lots necessarily escaped and for some of these 10½c had been offered by outside speculators, but holders of the same are asking from 10½ to 11½c. Parties holding the great bulk of the stock now in the market decline to name a price until these outside lots are better defined or disposed of in some way. Offers of 10c are authorized for any part of 5,000,000 wheat bags. The present concentration will likely hold as it is now getting late to order fresh supplies from primary markets.

Chicago Grain Market.

CHICAGO, July 24.—Wheat heavy, lower, 92 cash, 91⅝@92 July, 88¾ August, 86 Sept. Corn weak, heavy, lower, 35⅞ cash, 35 bid for August, Sept 32. Oats weak, heavy, 25c cash 22⅞ Aug. Rye and barley unchanged.

New York Oil Market.

[SPECIAL TO THE OREGONIAN.]

NEW YORK, July 24.—Petroleum quiet, united pipe, 95c; crude, 7@7½c; refined, 9½c.

Liverpool Cotton Market.

[SPECIAL TO THE OREGONIAN.]

LIVERPOOL, July 24.—Cotton dull and easier, uplands, 6 13-16; Orleans, 6 15 16. Sales 5.000 including 4200 American.

Gold and Stock Company's Reports.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 24.

Butter—Cala choice firm at 23c.

Eggs—23@24c.

Wool—Quiet but firm. There is a demand for good to choice; defective, neglected.

Salmon—Columbia river, small sales yesterday at $1 12½. Sales reported on river for export at $1 00.

Hides—Firm at 18c.

Bags—Machine sewed, market is firm owing to reductions in stocks; new combination formed; quote, 10½@10⅝c. Dealers anticipate active demand immediately, claiming visible supply of from 31,000,000 to 33,000,000, barely adequate for requirements and all controlled. If correct, anticipate appreciation in values.

Wheat—An inactive market at last quoted rates.

CHICAGO MARKETS.

CHICAGO, July 24.

Wheat—88⅞c for August.
Pork—$14 90 for August.
Lard—$6 90@6 92½ for August.

Swallowing POISON

Spurts of disgusting mucous from the nostrils or upon the tonsils, Watery Eyes, Snuffles, Buzzing in the Ears, Deafness, Crackling sensations in the Head, Intermittent Pains over the Eyes, Fœtid Breath, Nasal Twang, Scabs in the Nostrils, and Tickling in the Throat are

SIGNS of CATARRH.

No other such loathsome, treacherous and undermining malady curses mankind. One-fifth of our Children die of diseases generated by its Infectious Poison, and one-fourth of living men and women drag out miserable existences from the same cause. While asleep, the impurities in the nostrils are necessarily swallowed into the stomach and inhaled into the lungs to poison every part of the system. Dr. Wei De Meyer's Catarrh Cure absorbs the purulent virus and kills the seeds of poison in the farthest parts of the system. It will not only relieve, but certainly cure Catarrh at any stage. It is the only remedy which in our judgment, has ever yet really cured a case of Chronic Catarrh.

I know that persons who are unfortunate enough to be afflicted by any form of sexual disease have a delicacy in calling upon the proper physician in time, from a sense of modesty and sometimes from ignorance, and permit those diseases to exist until their constitutions become corrupted, their organization broken down and the hope of future happiness blighted, until death becomes a welcome messenger to carry them out of their miserable existence.
